

Hid-A-Meal Series

Food Storage Lockers

The Hid-A-Meal Series Food Storage Lockers offer a full line of solutions for bear resistant food storage at the trailhead, cook shelter, single or shared campsites, and more. Sturdy construction, bear proof latches eliminate animal access, and padlock hasps allow users to securely store their food and valuables.

The Hid-A-Meal Series now includes four food storage locker designs: the Trailhead, Cabinet, Campsite, and Cache.

Trailhead

The Trailhead is a modular design with a frame stand to accommodate up to five (5) two-compartment units up off the ground, away from animals. Each dual compartment locker unit has a total capacity of 14 cubic feet (396 litres).

Cabinet

The Cabinet is a high volume design intended for central locations like campground cook shelters. Available with two, four, or six compartments, multiple units can be placed side-by-side and/or back-to-back to maximize capacity and minimize footprint. Each compartment has a capacity of 20 cubic feet (566 litres) and can be ordered with an interior folding shelf.

Campsite

The Campsite is a single compartment unit available in two sizes: 14 cubic feet (396 litres) and 21 cubic feet (595 litres). The larger unit is available in a single or double door design, while the smaller is single door only. Both units can be ordered with the optional foot pedal, allowing the door to be opened hands-free. Other options include interior folding shelf and exterior laser cut panels or poly wood siding.

Cache

The Cache accommodates the highest volume of the Hid-A-Meal line and is available as a single or double unit. Two rows of shelves line the inside walls of each unit, like a wilderness pantry of sorts. To save on freight costs, the Cache ships knocked-down to be assembled on site.
